Who We Are

Helix is a specialty
deepwater service provider
to the offshore energy industry, focusing on our subsea infrastructure services in Well Intervention and Robotics.

Deepwater Subsea Services

Well Intervention

Entering a wellbore to initiate, enhance, restore or decommission production as part of the well's natural life cycle.

Robotics

Providing remotely operated vehicles (ROVs) to perform deepwater service tasks beyond the reach of dive crews.

Why focus on these disciplines?

- Low F&D cost for enhanced reserves
- Extended well life via intervention defers cessation of production and P&A liability
- P&A is regulatory driven; eventually, demand should increase over time
- Demand for a more cost effective solution to rigs
- Robotics is essential for credible quality performance in deepwater operations

Total	$	~ 685-730	$	581

Key forecast drivers:

- · Siem Helix 1 & Siem Helix 2 both operational in Brazil
- · Robotics segment improvements:
 - o Reduction in charter vessel fleet with return of Deep Cygnus in Q1 2018
 - Increased trenching work
- Q4000 utilization
- · Continued strengthening of North Sea market

¹ Outlook for 2018 includes an approximate $20 million reduction EBITDA for mobilization costs paid in 2016-2017 for the Brazil contracts and expensed over the term of the contracts.

ELIX 2018 Outlook: Well Intervention

- Total backlog as of December 31, 2017 was approximately $1.6 billion, including $1.2 billion for Well Intervention
- Gulf of Mexico
 - Q4000 primarily working spot market; backlog into Q2 2018
 - Q5000 forecasted work for BP for 270 days; out of service ~ 21 days for regulatory underwater inspection in Q1 2018
 - 15K IRS deployed in January on a two well contract
 - 10K IRS rental system began day-rate campaign for a P&A project early December with expected duration into Q2 2018
- North Sea
 - Seawell expected to have high utilization in 2018 after beginning work in March
 - Well Enhancer expected to have high utilization through mid-Q4 2018 after beginning work in March, including two coil tubing projects scheduled for Q2 2018
- Brazil
 - Siem Helix 1 & 2 working for Petrobras; Siem Helix 1 forecasted to incur some downtime as a result of 17 day scheduled maintenance in Q2 2018

21

Navigating the present, focusing on the future

2018 Outlook: Robotics

- Q1 2018 weak vessel utilization due to seasonal slowdown in North Sea and return of Deep Cygnus in Q1 2018
- Grand Canyon and Grand Canyon III are pursuing spot opportunities in North Sea during Q1 2018; Grand Canyon is expected to be fully utilized for trenching from May through the remainder of 2018
- Grand Canyon III has contracted work beginning in May and expected high utilization through Q3 2018
- Grand Canyon II has a contract providing for full utilization through Q1 2018 on a walk-towork project in the GOM

2018 Outlook: Capital Expenditures & Balance Sheet

2018 Capital Expenditures are currently forecasted at approximately $135 million, consisting of the following:

- Growth Capex $1151 million in growth capital, primarily for newbuilds, including:
 - o $105 million for Q7000, including a $69 million shipyard payment in December 2018
 - $10 million for intervention systems
- Maintenance Capex $20 million for vessel maintenance and intervention system maintenance

Balance Sheet

 Our total funded debt level is expected to decrease by $110 million (from $520 million at December 31, 2017 to $410 million at December 31, 2018) as a result of principal repayments

1 Includes capitalized interest.

HELIX ENERGY SOLUTIONS

Beyond 2018

- Expect improvements despite challenging market conditions
 - Several long term well intervention contracts
 - Operational improvements and cost reductions
- Market improvements offer additional upside potential
- Cash Flows improvements
 - Improved operating cash flows starting in 2018
 - Expected strong free cash flow once all major capital projects completed

Well Intervention

- Expanded alliance offerings
- o Q7000 available
- Focus on continued improved operating performance

Robotics

- Expect increasingly strong renewables trenching market
- Improvements in cost structure
 - Deep Cygnus returned in Q1 2018
 - Grand Canyon II hedge expires in Q3 2019
 - Grand Canyon I charter expires Q4 2019

We define EBITDA as earnings before income taxes, net interest expense, gain or loss on early extinguishment of long-term debt, net other income or expense, and depreciation and amortization expense. Non-cash goodwill impairment charge and non-cash losses on equity investment are also added back if applicable. To arrive at our measure of Adjusted EBITDA, we exclude gain or loss on disposition of assets. In addition, we include realized losses from foreign currency exchange contracts not designated as hedging instruments, which are excluded from EBITDA as a component of net other income and expense. We use EBITDA to monitor and facilitate internal evaluation of the performance of our business operations, to facilitate external comparison of our business results to those of others in our industry, to analyze and evaluate financial strategic planning decisions regarding future investments and acquisitions, to plan and evaluate operating budgets, and in certain cases, to report our results to the holders of our debt as required by our debt covenants. We believe that our measure of EBITDA provides useful information to the public regarding our ability to service debt and fund capital expenditures and may help our investors understand our operating performance and compare our results to other companies that have different financing, capital and tax structures. Other companies may calculate their measures of EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for, but instead are supplemental to, income from operations, net income or other income data prepared in accordance with GAAP. Non-GAAP financial measures should be viewed in addition to, and not as an alternative to, our reported results prepared in accordance with GAAP. Users of this financial information should consider the types of events and transactions that are excluded from these measures.
